Brokers as a rule have refused to accept orders for such transcribers. orders for such transactions. The market is thus reduced to exceedingly narrow di-

The lending of the money of the bankers' pool last week seems to have been done with a purpose to tide over weakness to save the general situation. Some readjustment is now in progress and some accounts are being forced out that seem to have been carried over last week with this condition attached. Calling of loans was on quite a large scale. With the buying demand limited to those with cash resources in hand, the effect on prices was not surprising, but was more prices was not surprising, but was more or less disturbing.

The line of the discrimination exercised against borrowers was not clearly de-fined by any announcement on behalf of fined by any announcement on behalf of the bankers, nor was it indicated by the character of the stocks which were being sold out, these including high-grade and active stocks for the most part. The reduction of loans by the banks thus effected has its direct influence in reducing the severe pressure on the money situation, but the policy pursued by the banks has in mind the wider effects on the situation in the attraction offered to cash investment by the low prices of securities. This attraction was operative today, both for home and foreign account. The considerable volume of the day's market, while it marked the severe sac-

The considerable volume of the day's market, while it marked the severe sacrifices of coerced borrowers, may be safely assumed also as a measure of absorption by outright cash buying, since practically no other class of buying was feasible in the dearth of banking credits to take up purchases on margins. Buying of this kind is relied upon as an important aid to the unlocking of cash resources which have gone into hoarding. The purchase of securities here for foreign account also is a material factor in furthering the control of the international exchange which may enable additional al exchange which may enable additional imports of gold.

The Bank of England was reported as discounting nothing at less than 6 per cent, which would indicate an intended drastic alteration in the present 116 per cent minimum discount. the present 4½ per cent minimum discount rate. There was a cancellation of part of one on yesterday's gold engagements, and the recovery in foreign exchange to-day was on a demand attributed to covering against some of yesterday's gold engagements.

Another rise in the price of copper was the measure of the additional buying for export. There was a sharp reaction from the measure of the ask a sharp reaction from the violent early advances in the London price of copper. It is noteworthy that, notwithstanding the famine conditions in the money market, there are still outstanding $5,920,950 of government 4 per cent bonds which were redeemable on July 1 last and which ceased to bear interest on that date.

A cut in prices of meat by western packing houses was an incident of the readjustment going on to incite new demand for products. The appearance of some supplies of money at the stock exchange late in the day induced some rallies, but the day's net declines are severe.

Bonds were weak. Total sales, par value, $3,426,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—A fresh slump in stocks brought about heavy selling of grain in the local market today and resulted in severe declines. Wheat sold off from 4½ to 4½ from the high point of the day and, for the December option, closed at a net loss of 1¾. Corn declined 2½ to 2½@2½ and closed 1½@1½ lower. Oats broke 3¾ to 4½, and closed 2½ lower. Provisions were 5@7½ to 17½@20-lower.

or. Provisions were 507½ to 17½020.

The wheat market opened strong because of an advance of 1d at Liverpool. The demand was only moderate, however, and when small holders began to sell prices broke more than ¼ in the first fifteen minutes of trading. All of this loss was regained on covering by shorts. Later, when the stock market broke, selling declined in the grain pits and became general. The break was not checked until wheat had sold off more than 4 cents from the high point of the day. During the last hour prices rallied about 2 cents on buying by commission houses and reports of a fair export trade. The close was weak. December opened ¼ to ½ higher, at 98 to 98¼, sold at 98%, and then declined to 94¼. The close was was at 96%. May ranged between 1.02¼ and 1.00½ and closed at 1.63%@1.04.

The corn market was strong early in the day because of the initial advance in wheat and the prediction of wet weather throughout the corn belt. The slump in stocks, however, caused a break of more than 2 cents in all deliveries. The market throughout the corn belt. The slump in stocks, however, caused a break of more than 2 cents in all deliveries. The market closed quite steady. December opened unchanged to ½ higher, at 57½ to 57%, sold between 55½ and 57% 657%, and closed at 56%55%.

Oats were strong at the opening on covering by shorts, but declined more than 4 cents from the high point, along with wheat and corn. The market showed little ability to rally and closed weak near the lowest point. December opened ½ to 3% higher, at 49% to 49%, advanced to 50%, and declined to 45%. The close was at 46½.

Provisions were weak because of the Provisions were weak because of the decline in stocks and liberal selling by local packers. At the close January pork was off 17½ at 14.50. Lard was down 5@7½ at 8.45. Ribs were off 17½@20 at 7.45.
